

Shop Bargains for the Week

The Tribune Shopper Finds the Best Values in Spring Clothing and Home Furnishings for the Careful Purse.

hand-made tucks, which make it stand upright about the neck, but which are released at the top to form a soft frill. This collar is finished with a picot edge. The comfortable turnover collar is still seen in French embroidered organdie. A smart narrow belt of black patent leather combined with white kid is $5.50. Simple hand-made guimpes of wash organdie cost $10. Fine linen handkerchiefs, with the narrowest of colored borders and an initial to match, are $3.75 for half a dozen. Plain ones with only the initial are $2.50 a half dozen.

tive Chantilly lace veils are especially priced at $1.75. Flouncings of embroidered net in ecru and white are 40 cents a yard. Silk nets, which are so much used for evening frocks, are to be had in colors, 42 inches wide, and are a special bargain at 48 cents a yard. Silk shadow lace is marked down to $1.10. Georgette crepe, which is still one of the most popular materials for blouses, is especially priced at $1.35.

Spring Suits Offered at Modest Prices.

At M'CREERY'S, West Thirty-fourth Street, I saw a good spring suit of black and white checked cheviot. Made in Empire style and trimmed effectively with black satin, this suit is an unusually attractive model for $24.50. At $22.50 is a blue serge suit, made on simple tailored lines. Separate skirts of plaids, checks and homespun may be had for $5. Neat house dresses of madras or lawn are obtainable for as little as 95 cents. As it is late in the season, warm eiderdown blanket robes have been reduced and may be had for $2.95. Dainty little handkerchiefs of wash chiffon, with striped borders, are 25 cents each. A fine glove handkerchief, with net footing attached to its narrow colored edge, is 25 cents. At $4.65 a dozen are excellent quality handkerchiefs for men, which formerly were priced at $6.

At J. M. GIDDING & CO.'S, 564 Fifth Avenue, was seen a good looking spring suit in dark blue serge, buttoned straight up the front and belted just below the bust. A flaring collar and narrow cuffs of striped black and white silk added a note of distinction. Price, $35. New tweed suits, made on mannish tailored lines, are $45. Separate coats of beautiful quality velour, corduroy, broadcloth, etc., have been reduced to $35 from $75, and to $25 from $55. Charming dance frocks are priced as low as $22.

FOR SPORTS' USE.

ABERCROMBIE & FITCH are showing an excellent line of dog collars, with leashes to match. Smart collars in bright green or red enamel leather may be had for $2; a leash to match, $2. Morocco collars and leashes are 75 cents apiece. A strong, light travelling box for dogs, made of bass wood and covered with enamelled waterproof duck, is $7. Matting bags, which serve the same purpose, are $2.60. A practical trap-shooting coat for women, with buckskin sleeves and trimmings, is $15. Mannish tweed suits for sports or "knockabout" wear are to be had for $35. Bright colored imported sweaters with novel collars and trimmings in white are reduced to $3.75 and upward. At $3.50 are hats of Madagascar straw for golfing, motoring, etc., faced and trimmed with gay silks.

For the girl who is fond of sports, SAKS, Sixth Avenue and Thirty-fourth Street, have a good tweed suit for $25, with hat to match. A smart little suit in tan covert cloth, with a well cut skirt, is $25. It is fastened with large bullet buttons. At $16.50 I saw a useful tailored gown in brown serge, with patch pockets and neat suede belt. A pretty little crepe de Chine suspender frock, shirred and corded about the waist, is $18.50. It has a putty colored guimpe. In the men's department quite wonderful bargains are to be had during the sale of Gotham silk shirts. These are good quality $5 shirts reduced to $3.85. At $1.35 are madras shirts which usually sell for $3.50. An extra service scarf comes in good colors for 55 cents. Men's tan cape gloves, said to be washable, are $1.15.

FOR THE VERANDA.

A practical tea table for the veranda, which may be resolved into two large bamboo trays and a folding frame, costs only $5 at JOSEPH

This folding tea-table, with two bamboo trays, at McHugh's, is only $5.

P. M'HUGH & SON'S, 9 West Forty-second Street. At $7.50 are egg sets of Hungarian pottery, consisting of six egg cups and a centre bowl on a wicker tray. Gayly painted metal chairs for the garden are priced at $4.50. Wicker holders for papers and letters form supports for the ends of a commodious breakfast tray. At $1 a yard rag carpeting is an inexpensive as well as attractive floor covering for the summer cottage. A wicker rack for the hall, designed to hold caps, tennis racquets, etc., with hooks beneath for coats, is $5.

A black and white checked cotton cheviot suit, with blue and white drill collar, cuffs and trimmings, $2.65 at Franklin Simon Co.

Smart tailored hats were seen at FRANKLIN SIMON COMPANY, 414 Fifth Avenue, for $4.95. These were of Milan straw in all the new colors, and suitable for motoring, golf or general wear. Satin or corduroy hats, simply trimmed with cockades or bands of ribbon, are $2.95. Afternoon hats in all the new weaves of straw, attractively trimmed with wreaths of roses, etc., are $5.95 up. There is a special sale just now for the small boy. Cotton cheviot middie suits in black and white checks, with collars and cuffs of a contrasting color, cost $2.65. The Oliver Twist suit in blue madras with embroidered emblems is only $1.95. The "vestee" suit, at $2.95, has a quaint loose coat and trousers of blue chambray, with inner vest of white pique.

Reduction in Infants' Dresses.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO., 881 Broadway, have reduced many of their dainty little infants' dresses to half their regular prices. Short dresses for babies of from one to three years are also included in this lot. Women's knitted spencers, to be worn under coats, are marked down to $2.50. Fancy silk braids and dress trimmings are reduced to 25 cents a yard. Plain vestees or yokes of net are priced at 50 cents, and nice net guimpes with new high collars are $1.15. Very good scarfs for men are to be had for 35 cents each, or three for $1.

Chinese and Japanese Ware.

Artistic Chinese bowls and vases at VAN-TINE'S, Fifth Avenue and Thirty-ninth Street, have been used to form the bases of some specially priced lamps. Large lamps of Chinese porcelain with designs in enamel are to be had for $13.50. Another variety with a base of woven bamboo is reduced to $6.75. A lamp of woven metal, resembling bamboo in appearance, is sold for $9. An electric lamp with silk Japanese shade and lacquer stand may be bought complete for $5.50. Sofa cushions of embossed Japanese leather are marked down to $2. Japanese notepaper, on each sheet a different reproduction of an old print, costs 75 cents a box. Flexible metal belts in various designs are reduced to $2.50. Silver pendants of semi-precious stones in quaint designs are $2, and earrings cost $3.50.

NEW VEILS.

"Flyaway" veils, with large octagonal mesh and borders of black velvet applique, are priced at 48 cents at JOHN DANIELL SONS & SONS, 759 Broadway. Tuxedo veils with white lace borders are also 48 cents. Attractive

Semi-Made and Separate Skirts Among Bargains.

OPPENHEIM COLLINS, 35 West Thirty-fourth Street, are showing a new separate skirt in black taffeta, made with numerous cordings, suggesting the old-fashioned crinoline. Price, $9.75. For $5.90 there are good tweed skirts with patch pockets. These are made moderately wide and button down the front. At the same price are separate skirts in gabardines and corduroys, which come in black, white, blue and sand color. Ramie linen skirts, with unique side pockets and empire belt, are $3.95. Attractive sweaters of fibre silk in two tones or in the solid color are $5, formerly $8.90. Dainty crepe de Chine negligees may be had in the lighter shades, trimmed with shadow lace, for $4.95. Pretty boudoir caps, costing $2.95, are of gold lace, trimmed with satin ribbon.

R. ALTMAN & CO., Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fourth Street, are making a specialty of semi-made skirts, such as are sold in some of the shops in Paris. These are of beautiful quality plaids, box-pleated and suitable for sports or general wear, and may be had for $4.50 and more. Gabardines, whose popularity is undiminished, may be had in all colors, 54 inches wide, at the special price of $1.75 a yard. Attractive imported plaids, 42 inches wide, cost 78 cents. A soft Morocco leather travelling case, nicely lined with silk and fitted with eight pieces of toilet articles in Parisian ivory, is $4.85. Russet Oxford travelling bags, well made, cost $4.85. At $4.75 are serviceable suitcases of cowhide, lined with linen.

MACY, Broadway and Thirty-fourth Street, has brought out a new pump known as "The Polkestone." This has a vamp of putty colored kid, with cloth top to match, outlined with a narrow white piping; it may be used for either dancing or street wear, and costs $4.96. Untrimmed hats of soft Milan straw come in all the popular colors for $2.97. Matched sets of imported hand made lingerie of sheer batiste or nainsook are very moderately priced. The "Marie Antoinette" gown, with puffed casings and ribbon run insertion of fish net lace, costs $5.49; chemise to match, $2.89. Another style, with the new shadow embroidery applied very effectively, is priced at $8.49 for the nightgown and $4.89 for the chemise.

A new model in women's slippers is this putty colored one to be found at Macy's, for $4.96.

Upholstery and Chairs—Crockery for the Kitchen.

GIMBEL BROTHERS, Sixth Avenue and Thirty-third Street, will do upholstery free of charge, provided the materials are bought in their shop. A very comfortable wing chair, with spring back and sides, upholstered in Puritan tapestry, is reduced to $17.50. At this season large cedar chests are especially tempting. Mahogany finished ones, with extra tray, formerly marked $21.50, are now priced at $16.25. The "Bar Harbor" armchair, in wicker, Semi-made skirts of good quality heavy linen are $3.85 at Lord & Taylor's.

An attractive knitted sweater in all colors at Lord & Taylor's, for $7.

If One Contemplates Travelling—Coats and Accessories.

BONWIT TELLER & CO., Fifth Avenue and Thirty-eighth Street, are showing a good coat for travelling for $12.50. It is made on the Empire lines in large black and white checked material, with gathered pockets. At $16.50 is a model of good quality tweed, with the new full skirt. A smart little plaid coat, with a flaring collar faced in bright green, is $25. A chamoisette duplex glove for 50 cents may be had in all the new light shades and is guaranteed to wash perfectly. At 85 cents is a smart kid glove with black stitching and bandoleet at the wrist to match. A good lightweight kid glove is priced especially at $1. A white pique glove of very excellent quality has three rows of fancy stitching and is marked down to $1.75.

HOLLANDER & CO., Fifth Avenue and Forty-sixth Street, show smart spring coats for sports, travelling, etc., for $35. A Russian model in large black and white checks has a wide belt and full flare skirt. Three-quarter length sports coats in wool jersey, used instead of sweaters, come in all the new bright shades for $35. Little boys' suits in colored linen, made like the service jackets worn by the English soldiers, are reduced to $6.50. Other models in heavy linens are marked down to $5. A charming suit in blue linen at $5 has the middy effect, with a novel opening up the front and a bit of handwork on the white collar and cuffs.

SHOE OFFERINGS.

The L. M. HIRSCH SHOE COMPANY, 404 Sixth Avenue, will match gowns with satin evening slippers from the many colors which they keep in stock for $3, and will make them to order for $3.50. A specialty has been made of a good storm boot, 9 1/2 inches high, sold for $4.50. This is equally suitable for sports or tramping. At $4.98 is a laced walking boot, with patent leather vamps and trimmings and good buckskin uppers.

THE H. JANTSEN SHOE COMPANY, 660 Sixth Avenue, is having a sale of very good walking boots for women, of black Russian leather. These are their regular $6 boots, but are now reduced to $4.85. A low walking shoe offered now for $3.85 is usually sold for $6, but is obtainable, however, in only a limited number of sizes. A smart buttoned boot with patent leather vamp and dull kid upper is reduced to $5.85 from $7.

A wicker tea wagon, with removable glass bottom upper tray, is $10.75 at Stern Bros.

Upholstery and Chairs—Crockery for the Kitchen.

In the furniture department at STERN BROTHERS, West Forty-second Street, are good upholstered settees with mahogany frames marked down to $18.50. Rockers to match are $12. A practical mahogany bookcase with glass doors is excellent value at $28.50. A comfortable chair, made after an Adam design, with upholstered seat and cane back, has been reduced to $14 from $21. Mahogany tables, with two leaves that may be raised and lowered, cost $9.75. Mahogany book ends, an attractive addition to the library table, are $3. Wing chairs in wicker with high backs are marked down to $8. Well made porch chairs with cane seats are priced at $3.25.

BLOOMINGDALE BROTHERS, Lexington Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street, have an attractive set of crockery jars for the kitchen at $3.19. It consists of fifteen pieces—large and small—for tea, coffee, oatmeal, etc., decorated with quaint blue designs. American cut glass salad bowls, vases and bonbon dishes have been especially priced at $1.98 each. A good china service of one hundred pieces in an attractive floral design costs $12. For $4.49 is an Austrian china tea set of fifty-six pieces. Pretty individual breakfast sets of sixteen pieces are $3.98. Electric lamps of hand-carved wood with antique gilt finish are $5, including a 12-inch silk shade. Practical standard reading lamps in verde or brass, with movable necks, are $3.98.

Bloomingdale Bros. sell this bit of complete kitchen equipment in blue Delft crockery for $3.19.

Copies of Historic Furniture

There is something very fascinating about really well made furniture, carefully executed and put together by hand. Excellent copies of the famous old designers, as well as interesting historic pieces, are on view at the shop of the TOBEY FURNITURE COMPANY, 669 Fifth Avenue. A rare desk table made by Christie, in London, is of solid mahogany, with an odd side compartment for ink, letters, manuscripts, etc., and is to be had for $55, formerly offered for $95. A mahogany reading table with centre lift is hand-made and costs $25. A useful piece of furniture is "the occasional table"—the Queen Anne type, with ball and claw feet—for $6. An interesting copy of an early Colonial chair is finished in black lacquer with antique gilt decoration, and costs $30. A child's chair, with the sides formed of two large wooden cats, is $12.

AMERICAN SILKS.

At JOHN WANAMAKER'S, Broadway and Ninth Street, I saw some very interesting effects in silk. Some of the new "made in America" silks have fascinating borders in designs copied from Poirer. These are 40 inches wide, and are especially suitable for the modern adaptations of the 1830 flouncings and furber-lows. Price, $3.50 a yard. The new "Paggiacci" checks, in black and white, promise to be very popular this spring. They cost $1.50 a yard and more. Wash silks, in suitable designs for women's and men's tailored shirts, are 85 cents. At $2.45 are pretty little "tub silk" blouses. These are in flesh, white and corn color, with pique or silk collars. Voile blouses trimmed with embroidered applique are priced at $2. Another model at the same price is simply put together with double fagoting, which is very effective. An imported Georgette crepe blouse, especially priced at $5, is finished with hemstitching, and two rows of tiny self-covered buttons, placed very close together, trim the front.

GRANDE MAISON DE BLANC, 540 Fifth Avenue, have some exquisitely fine neckwear of mousseline de soie. One collar has small,